ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE/FULL PROFESSOR OF EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH—EXPERIMENTAL/INTERVENTION RESEARCH (TENURE TRACK)

The University of Alabama College of Education seeks an assistant, associate, or full professor in the Department of Educational Studies. We are seeking a scholar with both a methodological and substantive specialization in experimental design/intervention research. We are especially interested in a scholar who uses Bayesian statistics to analyze treatment effects. Candidates will be appointed in the educational research program that is a part of a larger Department of Educational Studies that includes educational psychology and neuroscience, school psychology, and counselor education. Candidates for this position will be expected to teach research design and statistics courses. However, priority will be given to scholars whose research program aims to substantively address real problems of educational practice, especially interdisciplinary ones. Rank of appointment will be evaluated, in part, based on the applicant’s track record of securing extramural funding.

Responsibilities

- Establish an independent research program leading to publication;
- Teach courses in educational research;
- Seek external funding for research initiatives;
- Participate in program initiatives, faculty decisions, and advising;
- Provide consultation to an interdisciplinary group of students and faculty;
- Serve on dissertation committees.

Minimum Qualifications

- Doctoral degree in Educational Research (or similar field);
- Evidence of methodological expertise in experimental design/intervention research;
- Evidence of generating external funding in support of research activities, as appropriate for faculty rank;
- Ability to work with students and faculty in a variety of disciplines;
- Strong writing and communication skills;
- Commitment to working with diverse populations.

Preferred Qualifications

- Demonstrated general knowledge and interest in teaching research design and statistics at the undergraduate and graduate level;
- Demonstrated ability to develop working research collaborations across disciplinary boundaries;
- Evidence of participation in national professional organizations.

The review of credentials will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Starting date is August 16, 2020. Benefits include health and life insurance, TIAA-CREF available, Teachers’ Retirement System of Alabama, summer employment available on an as needed basis and international teaching opportunities are possible. Questions regarding this position can be directed to Dr. Michael Lawson at malawson@ua.edu - search committee chair.

Application Deadline: The review of credentials will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Application Process: Please apply online at https://facultyjobs.ua.edu. A letter of application, vita, names, addresses, and telephone numbers of three references, unofficial transcript(s) of all graduate level coursework, and up to three samples of professional writing are required to complete the online application process. Prior to hiring, the final candidate must successfully pass a pre-employment background investigation and submit “official” transcript(s) of all graduate level coursework.

The University of Alabama is an Equal Employment/Equal Educational Opportunity Institution. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status, and will not be discriminated against because of their protected status. Applicants to and employees of this institution are protected under Federal law from discrimination on several bases.