Introduction (Description of School/College/Dept/Program)

The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer with a strong commitment to the development of a climate that supports equality of opportunity and respect for differences based on gender, culture, ethnicity, disability, and sexual orientation. UWM is one of only two doctoral-granting institutions in the University of Wisconsin System. UWM is Wisconsin's premier urban research institution and teaches a more diverse student body than any other UW-System school. As Wisconsin's only public urban research university, UWM has established an international reputation for excellence in research, community engagement, teaching and entrepreneurship. UWM educates more than 26,000 students and is an engine for innovation in southeastern Wisconsin. In February 2016, UWM was designated an R-1 Doctoral University –Highest Research Activity, by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education. Of the 115 universities designated as R-1, UWM is among a minority located in an urban setting and one of only 10 with a dedicated urban access mission.

The Department of Educational Psychology trains the next generation of leaders in school and clinical mental health counseling, school psychology, learning and development, and educational statistics and measurement.

Job Summary

The Department of Educational Psychology seeks to fill a visiting assistant professor position for the 2018-2019 academic year in the area of Educational Statistics and Measurement.
